COMPLIANCE RULING

In the matter of the Department of Corrections
Ruling Number 2014-3692
September 12, 2013

The grievant's representative requested a compliance ruling from the Office of Employment Dispute Resolution (EDR) at the Department of Human Resource Management on August 15, 2013 and again on August 19, 2013 by e-mail. The grievant's representative claims that the agency has not provided requested documents. However, shortly after requesting this ruling, the agency produced additional documentation to the grievant's representative. EDR sought input from the grievant's representative as to whether the document request was now satisfied or if there were still issues of alleged noncompliance remaining. Having received no response from the grievant's representative, he was then notified that if a response was not received by September 11, 2013, EDR would close the file. Again having received no response from the grievant's representative, this ruling is closed without any findings of noncompliance.

EDR's rulings on matters of compliance are final and nonappealable.<sup>1</sup>
