COMPLIANCE RULING OF DIRECTOR

In the matter of the Virginia Employment Commission
Ruling No. 2011-2708
July 16, 2010

The grievant has requested that this Department (EDR) reconsider Ruling Number 2010-2651, a compliance ruling related to the grievant's April 29, 2010 grievance with the Virginia Employment Commission (the agency). In that ruling, it was determined that the grievance was untimely.

The grievant's reconsideration request has been reviewed and we conclude that there are no grounds for which reconsideration of EDR's compliance ruling is appropriate. The issues raised by the grievant in his reconsideration request have already been considered and addressed in the previous compliance ruling. The grievant has submitted nothing further that would alter the determinations in that ruling.

The request for reconsideration is denied. This Department's rulings on matters of compliance are final and nonappealable.¹
